PRSA Member Code of Ethics

Member Statement of Professional Values

This statement presents the core values of PRSA members and, more broadly, of the public relations profession. These values provide the foundation for the Member Code of Ethics and set the industry standard for the professional practice of public relations. These values are the fundamental beliefs that guide our behaviors and decision making process. We believe our professional values are vital to the integrity of the profession as a whole.

Advocacy

- We serve the public interest by acting as responsible advocates for those we represent.
- We provide a voice in the marketplace of ideas, facts, and viewpoints to aid informed public debate.

Honesty

- We adhere to the highest standards of accuracy and truth in advancing the interests of those we represent and in communicating with the public.

Expertise

- We acquire and responsibly use specialized knowledge and experience.
- We advance the profession through continued professional development, research, and education.
- We build mutual understanding, credibility, and relationships among a wide array of institutions and audiences.

Independence

- We provide objective counsel to those we represent.
- We are accountable for our actions.

Loyalty

- We are faithful to those we represent, while honoring our obligation to serve the public interest.

Fairness

- We deal fairly with clients, employers, competitors, peers, vendors, the media, and the general public.
- We respect all opinions and support the right of free expression.

Provisions and Guidelines

Within the following provisions, a member shall:

Free Flow of Information

- Preserve the integrity of the process of communication.
- Be honest and accurate in all communications.
- Act promptly to correct erroneous communications for which the practitioner is responsible.
- Preserve the free flow of unprejudiced information when giving or receiving gifts by ensuring that gifts are nominal, legal, and infrequent.

Competition

- Follow ethical hiring practices designed to respect free and open competition without deliberately undermining a competitor.
- Preserve intellectual property rights in the marketplace.

Disclosure of Information

- Be honest and accurate in all communications.
- Act promptly to correct erroneous communications for which the practitioner is responsible.

- Investigate the truthfulness and accuracy of information released on behalf of those represented.
- Reveal the sponsors for causes and interests represented.
- Disclose financial interest (such as stock ownership) in a client's organization.
- Avoid deceptive practices.

Safeguarding Confidences

- Safeguard the confidences and privacy rights of present, former, and prospective clients and employees.
- Protect privileged, confidential, or insider information gained from a client or organization.
- Immediately advise an appropriate authority if a member discovers that confidential information is being divulged by an employee of a client company or organization.

Conflicts of Interests

- Act in the best interests of the client or employer, even subordinating the member's personal interests.
- Avoid actions and circumstances that may appear to compromise good business judgment or create a conflict between personal and professional interests.
- Disclose promptly any existing or potential conflict of interest to affected clients or organizations.
- Encourage clients and customers to determine if a conflict exists after notifying all affected parties.

Enhancing the Profession

- Acknowledge that there is an obligation to protect and enhance the profession.
- Keep informed and educated about practices in the profession to ensure ethical conduct.
- Actively pursue personal professional development.
- Decline representation of clients or organizations that urge or require actions contrary to this Code.
- Accurately define what public relations activities can accomplish.
- Counsel subordinates in proper ethical decision making.
- Require that subordinates adhere to the ethical requirements of the Code.
- Report ethical violations, whether committed by PRSA members or not, to the appropriate authority.

Member Code of Ethics Pledge

I pledge:

To conduct myself professionally, with truth, accuracy, fairness, and responsibility to the public; to improve my individual competence and advance the knowledge and proficiency of the profession through continuing research and education; and to adhere to the articles of the Member Code of Ethics for the practice of public relations as adopted by the governing Assembly of the Public Relations Society of America.

I understand and accept that there is a consequence for misconduct, up to and including membership revocation. And, I understand that those who have been or are sanctioned by a government agency or convicted in a court of law of an action that is in violation of this Code may be barred from membership or expelled from the Society.

10 REASONS TO BE A PRSA MEMBER

1. Advance as a Professional

PRSA Professional Development gives you the highest value at the most reasonable prices for on-site seminars and conferences, teleseminars and e-Learning. We also offer the most dynamic annual gathering in the industry — the International Conference. All of these learning opportunities, along with the ability to become Accredited in Public Relations (APR), are available to help you sharpen your skills and advance your career.

2. Join a Nationwide Network of Chapters, Professional Interest Sections and Affinity Groups

As a public relations professional belonging to PRSA, you are rooted in an effective Member Code of Professional Ethics that is dedicated to inclusiveness through a network of more than 100 Chapters nationwide. You can choose to multiply the effectiveness of your membership by joining a practice specific Professional Interest Section or Affinity Group. By being a PRSA member, you have the opportunity to play a pivotal role in your local public relations community and be a strong advocate for your profession.

3. Enjoy and Learn from PRSA's Award-Winning Media

Members receive two instrumental PR publications. The Strategist is a must-read quarterly magazine for senior level practitioners, and Public Relations Tactics is a wide-ranging monthly tabloid newspaper written by seasoned professionals in a snappy, easy-to-read format. PRSA's resource-rich Web site offers a comprehensive guide of the organization, as well as its programs and products. PRSA's Web site also features online versions of PR Tactics and The Strategist.

4. Manage Your Career

At PRSA's JobCenter, relaunched in Spring 2008 with new functionality, you can review job openings or post your resume as well as receive job alerts and access the career library. The Blue Chip Expert service and our RFP exchange provide additional access to work opportunities.

5. Find a Mentor

Need advice from a seasoned professional? The Mentoring program offered through the College of Fellows provides guidance by phone or e-mail from Accredited professionals with twenty or more years of experience. The New Professionals Affinity Group also offers a mentor program to its members.

6. PRC Search Answers Your Public Relations Research Questions

Free to PRSA members, this quick and easy research method is accessible right from your desk. Our Professional Resource Center maintains bibliographic references to thousands of editorial abstracts from the Society's periodicals and publications, including more than 4,000 Silver and Bronze Anvil campaign profiles.

7. PR Issues & Trends

This daily news monitoring service reports on industry trends, advocacy and other issues impacting the profession and the professional. It is a review of the day's most relevant stories, and is e-mailed to members each business day.

8. Be Recognized for Your Work

The skills and reputation of your organization can be improved and celebrated through the Silver Anvil and Bronze Anvil Awards programs. These programs recognize the best in public relations practices and tactics. In addition to Chapter awards that recognize your individual work on a community basis, prestigious national awards are also given each year including the Paul M. Lund Public Service Award, the Outstanding Educator Award, Public Relations Professional of the Year Award, the Patrick Jackson Award for Distinguished Service to PRSA, and the highest individual annual award — the coveted Gold Anvil.

9. Exclusive Member Rates and Members-Only Services

Your membership allows you exclusive access to the entire database of PRSA members, plus members-only services and products. You are eligible for special rates on teleconferencing services, car rentals, office supplies and air freight. In addition, you may apply for a PRSA Member credit card and business and general liability insurance.

10. Be a Leader through PRSA: Advance the Profession

Take advantage of the effective, challenging and rewarding avenues for leadership that are open to all, ranging from local hands-on involvement at the Chapter level to national visibility.
