Type of Membership Application... (Please check one)

- Currently a national PRSA member.
- Applying for national PRSA membership (Don't forget to send this form with that application).
Please note, PRSA does require that you be a member of the national organization before being accepted for local membership. If you are not currently a member you must join the national organization at this time.

How you can get involved... (Please check any that interest you.)

To maximize the value of your membership, please indicate the committee(s), on which you have an interest in serving. The committee chair(s) will contact you with more information.

- Accreditation Committee: Helps practitioners prepare for PRSA's accreditation exam and administers the exam.
- Membership Committee: Attracting/retaining members, sends out information, processes applications.
- Monthly Meetings Committee: Taking reservations for monthly PRSA luncheon meetings, collecting fees, and registering attendees are among the duties of this committee.
- Newsletter Committee: Keeps members informed about chapter activities with the monthly newsletter.
- Program Committee: Secures interesting, informative guest speakers and panel presenters for monthly meetings.
- Pro Bono Committee: Links chapter members with non-profit organizations in the community. The practitioners help community groups develop long-range communications plans and special projects to achieve their goals.
- PRSA Advisors/Student Liaison: Provides a link between the Hampton Roads PRSA chapter and PRSA's student chapter at Norfolk State University.
- P.R. for PRSA Committee: Media relations for monthly meetings, special events, new officers, etc.
- Public Service Committee: This committee puts chapter expertise to work helping non-profit organizations in Hampton Roads. It coordinates a workshop on public relations for non-profit groups.
- Professional Development Committee: Keeps members up-to-date on new trends, developments and activities in public relations with an annual workshop.
